PW/PW POLYMER NOTE

Polish Security Printing Works (PWPW) is pleased to present a new promotional note "Bees".

The note was created to demonstrate the scope of our technical capability in the field of designing and printing of banknotes.

Our goal was to show a number of sophisticated security features which are made available by the application of the polymer substrate.

According to the expectations of its customers, PWPW implements new technologies into current production as well as develops new areas of activities.

In 2013 PWPW joined the group of banknote producers accredited for printing Guardian® polymer notes.

The promotional note "Bees" meets all the increasing requirements of the market concerning the design, quality and security of the delivered notes.
